

F: Yeah?

I: Yeah.

F: OK. Hi, my name is Randy Fred. I'm Tseshaht from Port Alberni. Living in Nanaimo for a long time and I love it here. And spent my life in communications. Started in accounting, but lost my eyesight. So, ironically became involved with communication of all forms. And I'm still doing a lot of communications work and love it.

I: And what about, something about Canada?

F: Canada. Well, I think idea of celebrating Canada's 150th anniversary of confederation is admirable, but realistically I think we really gotta focus on the coming 150 years and really look at how we can improve everybody's lives.
