

Cowichan Campus

BULLETIN

911009

THANKSGIVING

The campus will be closed this Thanksgiving weekend, October 12, 13 and 14.

The Library will be open Saturday, October 12th, Noon to 4pm.

SPRING 1992

Spring comes early in C.E. where the course offerings for Spring 1992 are now being discussed.

You are invited to share your ideas and suggestions for new and different courses with the folks in C.E.

FREE COURSE FOR STUDENTS

Please remind your students of the free computer course: Wordprocessing for Students Using Professional Write, Thursday, October 10th,

1:30-4:30pm. Students should register for this course.

HALLOWE'EN

Some areas have started decorating for Hallowe'en and one staff member was spotted arriving in slippers and housecoat in (it was presumed) an effort to get a head start on everyone in the costume department. As it turned out it was her normal attire...but we'll say no more about that! Let it just serve as a reminder that costumes are the norm at Cowichan Campus on October 31st.

ELECTION DAY

Cowichan Campus is a polling station on Thursday, October 17th. Rooms 154/155 will be used for people to cast votes in the Provincial election.

FREE FILM

A more sober look at the timely topic of witches is the NFB presentation "The Burning Times" to be shown Tuesday, October 15th, 12:15pm, Room 156.

"A few centuries ago, in Europe, there was a women's holocaust. The witch hunts killed off millions of women. This film examines the destruction of a way of life and the reasons underlying the massacre. The old pagan communities, founded on spirituality and cooperation, were transformed into the misogynist capitalist societies of the 20th Century. "The Burning Times" suggests that violence towards women today has its roots in the witch-craze of yesterday."

BULLETIN

FREE READING AND LECTURE SERIES

MIKE SAKAMOTO

Formerly Director of Self Government Mike Sakamoto has fifteen years with the Department of Indian Affairs. He is now the Claims Coordinator and will speak on the Federal Government's perspective on Land Claims and Recent Developments on the Comprehensive Claims front in British Columbia.

Friday, October 18, 1991
12:00 noon
Room 154/155

SARAH ELLIS

Award winning children's author Sarah Ellis will speak on her very popular book Next-Door Neighbours. A Vancouver resident, Sarah Ellis is the author of many critical essays on children's literature. Her most recently published book is Step on a Crack.

Monday, October 28, 1991
6:30pm
Room 154/155

Free and open to the public,
no registration required.

